Coastal Banc provides foundation for Habitat

On Sept. 16, the Columbus and Weimar branches of Coastal Banc contributed $1,000 apiece to Colorado County Habitat for Humanity (CCHF).

This money, combined with the $1,000 donated last year by the Columbus Coastal Banc branch, will be used to sponsor the building of the foundation for the second CCHF home in Eagle Lake.

This home will be built next door to the first Habitat home on land donated by Revitalize Eagle Lake, Inc.

Class Concrete of Eagle Lake will also be involved in sponsoring the house by supplying the needed foundation concrete at substantial savings.

After viewing prospective numerous homeowner applications, interviewing applicants and assessing family housing needs, Mary Lou Castillo and her family were chosen to be the CCHF homeowners. Ms. Castillo is employed as a phlebotomist at the Rice Medical Center and has two sons; Alvaro, age 16, and Alfonso, 11.

Castillo has lived in Eagle Lake since her parents, Pedro and Maria De la Garza, moved to this area when she was 15 years old. She worked part-time for RMC (then known as the Eagle Lake Hospital) from 1979 to 1981, then worked for Dr. Ugarte until he left the area in 1992. She then worked for Dr. Morris in Sealy and now is back at the hospital.

Ms. Castillo keeps busy with her sons' schedules, but she somehow found time to teach CDC classes while she was in Sealy.

Alvaro attends Rice High School and is into physical fitness (weight training, etc.) and antique/classic cars.

Alfonso attends Eagle Lake Middle School and, as Ms. Castillo puts it, is into everything...soccer, band, you name it.

As a single working parent, Ms. Castillo has been able to provide the necessities of day-to-day living for her family. However, with the high cost of housing, she was unable to afford adequate housing. Now the Castillos are partnering with Habitat in the construction of their own home!

Chuck Coy will be the construction supervisor for this second Eagle Lake build. Mr. Coy is a retired contractor and lives with his wife, Gail, in Weimar (hopefully the site of CCHF year 2000 build). He and his construction committee have already met with Mary Lou in choosing the floor plan for their 1,100 square foot, 3-bedroom, 1-3/4-bath home. Mr. Charles Tallierne from Industry will be donating his services again as electrician and Williams Plumbing of Eagle Lake will be providing the plumbing at a reduced cost.

As agreement to ownership, Ms. (See Habitat, Page 10)

Want some cookie?

Bailey Hlavinka wasn't really going to share the cookie her grandmother, Dianne Causey of Eagle Lake, gave her during Saturday night's Study Club Auction, but she was enthralled by the baby goat donated by Billie Williamson and purchased by Arthur Anderson. All the youngsters at the Auction gathered around the carrier to get a good look at one time or another during the evening.

Bailey is the daughter of Stacey and Jeff Hlavinka of East Bernard. Headlight Photo by Jeannine Fearing

Antibiotic Suppository Now Available for Bacterial Vaginosis

The US Food and Drug Administration recently approved a prescription medicine for bacterial vaginosis (BV) — a condition that is estimated to affect 40% of women who visit OB-GYN physicians. This condition once was referred to as nonspecific vaginitis. It is now the leading cause of abnormal vaginal discharge in women of childbearing age. The bacteria associated with BV is Gardnerella vaginalis. The infection caused by this organism, which is considered mild compared to urinary tract infections, may involve itching, burning, and a thin, white to gray discharge. According to a recent report in British Medical Journal, the infection can put women at risk for a first-trimester miscarriage.

Clindamycin (Cleocin) in suppository form has been approved for BV in nonpregnant women. This antibiotic has been available in a variety of dosage forms. In one clinical trial, a three-day treatment of BV with clindamycin vaginal suppositories was as effective as seven days of metronidazole (Flagyl) taken by mouth. The clindamycin vaginal suppository offers patients a much shorter treatment alternative as compared to the oral medicine.
