

Linda and Steve Balas are always busy, but never too busy to help out the library and Study Club Auction. Linda is holding a Ducks Unlimited Limited Edition poured mallard duck. Their Radio Shack dealership is donating a satellite dish with installation. Both would be great for your home.

Headlight Photos by Carol Nelson

Deborah and Tom Reed of Lake Motors in Eagle Lake have donated two Quicklubes, a car wash, vacuum and detailing to this year's Study Club Auction. Ask them for the details. Also up for bid are six jars of homemade fig preserves from Mrs. J.B. Wesson's fig tree.

Dr. John Myres took time out of his busy day to pose with this gift basket donated by him and his associates. It includes a $200 certificate and a tooth fairy pillow.

Librarian Laura Finney would like for you ladies and gents to take a good look at this photo so you can begin the bidding on the Mary Kay Cosmetics basket donated by Sherri Gould, Mary Kay Consultant, and the maroon velvet tunic top and black velvet pants donated by Esta Kerr Lippman. Ladies, you'll be lookin' good and smelling great. (See Page 7 for additional Study Club Auction photos.)

tailers selling used Bridgestone/Firestone tires. Attorney John Cornyn said retailers in Houston last week were caught selling recalled tires that the National Transportation Safety Agency identified as potentially unsafe.

Mrs. Ted Brunner brought these Onieda crystal candlesticks by the library for the Study Club Auction and Evangeline Loessin Whorton donated the antique green Celadon bowl in the photo. They'd both make lovely additions to your hutch.
