Volunteer start framing Habitat house...

CCYFS provides lunch for workers

Saturday, Feb 23, was a beautiful day to be outdoors. And, if you drove down 106 County Road in Weimar that day, you saw what some folks were doing with that gorgeous weather... building a house with their neighbors!

"Harty" Hartensteiner, Drew Grobe, Jim Dodson, Bill Huffnagel, Richard Luhrs, Raul Martinez, Noel Smith, David Kalich and prospective Habitat homeowner, Mary Cowling snapped lines and framed the entire exterior of her home, including most of the interior walls.

With all that activity, they worked up quite an appetite, so thank goodness for the delicious lunch of sandwiches and cookies provided by the Colorado County Youth & Family Services (CCYFS)!

Saturday March 2, didn't provide such ideal working conditions. In fact, when the Port-o-Potty blew over (fortunately no one was inside!), the volunteers decided it wasn't such a good day to work after all and the workday was cancelled.

To keep the build on schedule, "Harty" and crew completed the framing and even got the trusses set up during the week!

Saturday, March 9, also proved too windy to work. (I understand March is supposed to be windy, but hey, give us a break!) The First Baptist Church of Eagle Lake was on site to tackle the roofing, but with the cold front blowing through like a hurricane and Habitat being short a construction supervisor that day, they decided to wait for the next Saturday to do their stuff.

Weimar Calvary Baptist Church is scheduled for March 23 and, if all has run smoothly to that point, they will be putting on the siding.

Do you have drywall and/or tape and float experience? If so, Colorado County Habitat Needs You!!!

Habitat also needs to raise about $7,000 more to complete this home. Donations of money, labor, materials and prayer are always appreciated.

CCHFH is a nonprofit, ecumenical Christian housing ministry whose goal is to abolish poverty housing here and around the world.

Pleased call Richard Luhrs at 263-5848 if you or your organization would like to participate in this build.
