4-H selling fruit

Colorado County 4-H members are in the process of holding their annual fruit sales campaign.

They are selling Texas Sweet oranges and grapefruit, as well as apples and pears.

These are available in several different sizes of boxes and fruit combinations.

The fruit is coming from River Star Farms in Mercedes, Texas.

In addition to the fruit, 4-H members will be selling pecans, peanuts, cashews and walnuts for the first time. Items that are available include: raw pecan halves and pieces, flavored and frosted pecan halves, raw and flavored peanuts, cashews, walnuts and a variety of gift sets. These items will be available in 1, 2, 3 and 5 pound containers.

The nuts are being purchased from Durham-Ellis Pecan Company in Comanche, Texas.

All orders must be placed and prepaid by Nov. 8, 2002.

To place an order, contact a local 4-Her or go by the County Extension Office, 316 Spring Street in Columbus.

The money raised is used to provide educational programs.

Seeking help shows strength, not weakness

By Daryl Knox, M.D.

"I hope no one I know sees me in this waiting room." The 18-year-old who confided this sentiment to his dad speaks for many people entering the front doors of mental health agencies.

Unfortunately, the stigma of seeking mental health services keeps many people from entering counseling and thus living more fulfilling lives.

Using mental health services is not a sign of character weakness, but a sign of strength. There are many similarities between using counseling and seeking care for a physical problem. With some physical problems, lack of treatment is not essential and eventually the illness will pass on its own. Physical ailments such as influenza, allergies, minor wounds or infections will clear up eventually without professional treatment.

Other types of illnesses are more serious, requiring immediate treatment or surgery and can cause great discomfort or death if left untreated. When people recognize that they have a physical problem, society encourages them to seek proper medical treatment.

Emotional problems should be looked at from the same viewpoint. Some create psychic discomfort but do not pose any life-threatening problem and may eventually go away without (See MHMR, Page 9)

Foot Facts

By Dr. Eric Tepper, Podiatrist

HEEL PAIN TRIGGERS

Because heel pain can occur due to various conditions, it is always a good idea to seek medical attention. A correct diagnosis will ensure proper treatment and more prompt alleviation of painful symptoms. Inflammation of the plantar fascia, the band of connective tissue spanning the sole of the foot, is a common cause of heel pain. Heel spurs, small bony growths, can result from plantar fasciitis or strain on other ligaments and tendons and cause heel pain. Systemic conditions like rheumatoid arthritis or gout may cause or exacerbate discomfort in the heel. Bursitis, the inflammation of a cushioning sack of fluid in the area, may cause heel pain, as can neuromas, nerve growths resulting from inflammation.

When your feet cause you pain, there are many steps you can take to get relief. The first, and probably most important, is a visit to your podiatrist. If heel pain or any other foot problems have got you down, let us do what we do best - diagnose and treat the problem so that you are back on your feet quickly and painlessly. Located at Rice Medical Center, we welcome your call for complete podiatric care. Office hours are by appointment on Tuesdays; please call 234-5571.

P. S. Achilles tendonitis is a common cause of heel pain among active people.
