Stalk destruction deadline is Oct. 20

The Texas Department of Agriculture (TDA) reminds cotton growers in Zone 5 that Wednesday, Oct. 20 is the deadline for cotton stalk destruction to comply with producer-established dates to control boll weevils.

The Oct. 20 deadline applies to cotton fields in Chambers, Colorado, Fayette, Galveston, Gonzales, Harris, Jefferson, Lavaca, Liberty, Orange, Waller and Washington counties.

Deadlines for cotton stalk destruction are established by regulations adopted under the Cotton Pest Control Law to help control boll weevils. After the deadline cotton stalks must not be allowed to develop squares, blooms or bolls and must remain without fruiting structures until planting next spring.

For more information, contact the TDA Gulf Coast office at 713-921-8200 or the TDA South Central Regional office at 210-820-0288.

Texas Czechs influence topic of Oct. lecture

Marvin Marek, president of the Czech Educational Society of Texas and founding member of the Czech Heritage Society of Texas will present "The Influence Czechs Have Made to Texas Culture" as part of the Wharton County Junior College (WCJC) Fall President's Lecture Series on Thursday, Oct. 21. The presentation begins at 7:30 p.m. in the Horton Foote Theatre in the Dusen-Hanson Fine Arts Building. It is free and open to the public.

Marek's presentation will include a brief overview of the origins and history of the Czechs in Europe and their immigration to the U.S. He will also talk about the history of Czechs in Texas. In addition, the lecture will highlight the Czech culture with a musical presentation by the Czech Heritage Society Singers. Classical selections, inspired by the 19th century national awakening in Central Europe, will also be shared.

A native of Shiner, Texas, Marek moved to Wharton County at the age of seven. There he spent much of his time in the cotton fields, reflective of the Czech's agrarian-oriented families. He attended South Texas Junior College and the University of Houston. As a typical Czech, Marek not only was dedicated to farming, but he was part of a close-knit family that included immigrant grandparents. His mother's great grandparents came to Fayette County from Moravia in 1855 and 1860. His father's parents arrived in 1896.

"I have lived in a privileged age to have the experience of interacting with immigrants," he said. Over the years, Marek has visited the "crown lands" of Moravia and Bohemia, as well as other Czech lands and European countries. A 1984 trip to Czechoslovakia was eye-opening as he observed the Communist government using John Huss (Jan Hus), a Catholic priest who questioned clergy abuses and many church practices, as a propaganda tool.

"It was very peculiar to me to see the government use Hus as a means to promote communism because his message of reform was contrary to the philosophy of communism that promotes nationalism and the universality of mankind," said Marek.

Another indelible trip took place while Marek was in Rome in November 1989 for the canonization of Saint Agnes of Bohemia. After being among 13,000 Czechs to participate in this liturgy, he learned of the Velvet Revolution in Prague, which led to the overthrow of the communist government there. The final speaker in the WCJC Fall 2004 President's Lecture Series is Celina Fein, a Holocaust survivor. During her Nov. 16 lecture, she will share her unusual story of living with the Nazi Germany family during the Holocaust. For more information about the lecture series, visit www.wcjc.edu or call 979-532-6322 or 1-800-561-9252, ext. 6322.
