The fourth grade won the room count with 11 parents attending and Velma Kutzer won the door prize.

This week students throughout the district will observe and participate in Red Ribbon Week. On Monday the students agree, "You don't have to do drugs to be cool". They were encouraged to wear their favorite caps, hats or shades. Tuesday, "You can dress like a fool without being one." Wear clothes inside out, backwards or mix-matched.

Wednesday, "Don't let drugs stand in the way of your future". Students are asked to dress for their future career. On Thursday, "A person on drugs can't hide". Wear your favorite camouflage outfit. On Friday, Oct. 29, "Don't be scared, just say no to drugs", and wear your Halloween costume. One winner from each grade level will receive a prize. So dress up kids and show your commitment to being drug free.
