Ravioli: not Just For Kids Anymore

Though dishes such as pizza and spaghetti tend to be the first to come to mind when thinking of Italian food, part of the appeal of Italian cuisine is the variety of dishes available.

Chicken, veal and even beef all have a place in Italian cuisine, making many Italian restaurants' menus among the most varied a diner will find.

One popular, yet often overlooked, Italian dish is what people refer to as ravioli.

Many Americans are quick to dismiss ravioli as a child's entrée, perhaps due in large part to the popularity of Chef Boyardee ravioli. In fact, ravioli is often listed on the children's menu at non-ethnic restaurants, adding to its image as a food for kids.

Agnolotti Filled with Ricotta and Spinach
Makes 4 Servings
Agnolotti

2 pounds fresh spinach, washed, dried and stems removed
3/4 pound (1 1/2 cups) fresh whole milk ricotta cheese
1/2 cup freshly grated Parmigiano-Reggiano cheese
2 large eggs, lightly beaten
Pinch of freshly grated nutmeg
1 pound store-bought pasta sheets
Sea salt and freshly ground black pepper

Sauce

2 tablespoons extra-virgin olive oil
3 cloves garlic, crushed
1 pound mixed wild mushrooms, wiped, trimmed and thinly sliced
1 teaspoon sea salt, or to taste
Freshly ground black pepper
1 cup dry white wine, such as Pinot Grigio or Trebbiano
4 cups of Veal Stock or Chicken Stock or canned low-sodium stock
1 sprig fresh rosemary
1 tablespoon unsalted butter
Freshly grated Parmigiano-Reggiano cheese
1 tablespoon julienned flat-leaf parsley

To make the Agnolotti:

Blanch the spinach in a large pot of salted boiling water until bright green and tender, about 1 minute. Drain and shock under cool water.

Using your hands, squeeze as much moisture as possible from the spinach, then coarsely chop. In a large mixing bowl, combine the spinach, ricotta cheese, Parmigiano-Reggiano cheese, eggs, and nutmeg. Season to taste and set aside to cool.

On a lightly floured work surface, using a sharp knife or pizza cutter and ruler, trim the pasta into a 6- by 18-inch rectangle. Cut the paste into 27 2-inch squares: first cut it horizontally into three 2-inch strips, then cut it vertically into nine 2-inch widths.

Spoon 1 1/2 teaspoons of the filling in a horizontal line about 1 1/4 inches long in the center of each square, leaving a border on both sides.

Using a spray mister filled with water, lightly mist the pasta with water. Bring the bottom edge of each square up to match the top edge and press around the three cut edges to seal.

Bring the lower (folded) edge up to the top edge and press both sides to seal, forming a small, horizontal pocket at the top. Using a zigzag pasta wheel, trim about 1/4 inch from both sides of each agnolotti, taking care not to cut into the filling.

Set the agnolotti in a baking pan lined with parchment and dusted with a little flour or cornmeal. Leave in a cool, dry spot.

To prepare the sauce:

In a large heavy skillet, heat the olive oil over medium-high heat. Add the garlic and cook, stirring, until softened and just beginning to color, about 1 minute. Stir in the mushrooms, season with salt and pepper, and cook, stirring frequently, for 1 to 2 minutes.

Turn the heat to high, pour in the wine, and deglaze the pan, scraping up any brown bits with a wooden spoon. Simmer until the liquid is reduced by half, about 6 to 8 minutes.

Add the stock and rosemary sprig. Bring the liquid to a boil, then reduce the heat and simmer for 45 minutes to an hour, until the sauce lightly coats the back of a wooden spoon. Taste to adjust the seasonings and keep warm.

Meanwhile, bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Add the pasta, stir gently, and cook until the agnolotti rise to the surface, then cook for 1 minute longer. Remove with a slotted spoon to a large bowl.

Drain any water that accumulates in the bowl. Stir in the butter, then add the sauce and a generous amount of Parmigiano-Reggiano, toss to blend, and serve immediately on large plates.

HOROSCOPES

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20

Toward the end of the week your social activities require less planning and deliberation. You'll coast by on your charms and natural affinity for other people.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21

This week is full of good things, Taurus, and you can't get enough of them. Romance is at the center, or at least fun with close friends if you aren't attached.

GEMINI - May 22/Jun 21

Communication is difficult for you this week, Gemini, so be extra clear when giving directions or orders. You'll have a much easier time of it on Thursday.

CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22

When you focus on domestic matters early in the week you face some challenges, Cancer. Don't start one project before you finish another, even if it isn't going so well.

LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23

You have to reassess your budget, Leo, because the original figures are just not practical. Sit down and work through the numbers again to arrive at a compromise.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22

Use the enormous surge of energy you feel this week to cheer up someone who isn't having the good time that you are, Virgo. Your upbeat nature will inspire.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23

You are blessed with the utmost clarity to realize your relationship desires and fall in love - or deeper in love if you already have a significant other.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22

This week you uncover a host of secrets that provide some clue to the innovative way your mind operates, Scorpio. You are feeling energized and excited as a result.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21

Get everything done in order, Sagittarius, because skipping steps won't get the job done faster in the long run. Rather, you'll end up backtracking.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20

This entire week can be devoted to projects that fit your fancy, Capricorn. Whether they are social, personal or romantic, they will be entirely of your own doing.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18

This week you must endure several projects that are of a collaborative nature. Despite your ease around people, you find it hard to work in this manner.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20

Before you criticize someone this week, Pisces, get to know how they tick. You may discover your criticism is unwarranted.
