HEALTHY SMILES FOR A LIFETIME

A healthy mouth is vital to a senior citizen's quality of life. Healthy teeth and gums help ensure that seniors can enjoy a balanced diet and avoid the pain of decay and periodontal disease well into their later years.

However, seniors may experience a unique set of dental challenges due to their age and physical condition.

Dentists can help their senior patients avoid risking their oral health by frequently updating patients' medical histories, watching for potentially harmful drug interactions (including herbal and over-the-counter remedies) and teaching patients how to guard against dental conditions commonly found in aging populations.
