Rice School Board

Continued from front page estimates as well as conservative estimates on bond tax rates and other financial considerations. School officials indicated that they feel that the tax base is going to increase more than has been projected and think that the tax rates may actually come out even lower when things are said and done.

School officials say that if the election passes in May, construction could begin as early as the beginning of 2008 and could be finished for the start of the 2009-2010 school year or in the middle of that year.

In previous meetings the board approved contract renewals and pay increases for a number of district administrators.

Elementary School principal Sue Weller received a salary increase of about $1,650. Weller's previous salary was $64,634.

Eagle Lake Junior High principal Mike Keenon received a salary increase of about $1,650. Keenon's previous salary was $54,534.

Garwood School principal John Post received a salary increase of about $1,650. Post's previous salary was $54,534.

Rice High School principal Leroy Stavinoha received a salary increase of about $1,672. Stavinoha's previous salary was $74,579.

Athletic Director and Head Football Coach Brad Dumont received a salary increase of about $1,100. Dumont's previous salary was $67,034.

Assistant Superintendent Bill Hefner received a salary increase of about $1,672. Hefner's previous salary was $76,596.

All of the above were approved to two-year contracts.

Superintendent Michael Lanier was approved for a three-year contract and received a $3,000 salary increase. His previous salary was $89,000.
