Balas Receives Certificate From Eagle Lake Rotary

The Rotary Club of Eagle Lake was honored to have special guests, Steve Balas, Ray Viktorin, Vivian Metzger and, all the way from Spring, Texas, Randy Hoenig in attendance at the September 9th meeting.

Program Director Bill Harrison Jr., introduced LCRA Board Member Steve Balas who gave a report on the status of the water situation for our area.

It is not what local farmers want to hear. Mr. Balas indicated that the available water is decreasing rapidly and if there isn't rain in the Highland Lakes area soon, restrictions will have to be implemented.

Bill Harrison Jr. presented Mr. Balas a certificate of appreciation for updating the members on the water situation.

Each week the club will now invite five different Eagle Lake citizens to have coffee and pastries with them in an effort to determine areas in which Rotarians might be able to lend assistance.

Anyone interested in attending a meeting, or wishing to explore the possibility of joining the local Rotary Club should speak with a Rotarian they know, or send an email to eaglelakerotary@hughes.net.

Take Class Outdoors During Archeology Month

As students head back to school and their inquisitive minds hunger to learn new things, teachers and parents should consider taking advantage of Texas Archeology Month (TAM) events occurring throughout the state in October.

From archeology fairs to demonstrations of native crafts and hands-on activities like mock digs and rock art replication, TAM offers something bound to amaze every would-be archeologist.

Sponsored by the THC since 1989 as part of its mission to preserve the state's archeological resources and increase the appreciation of scientific archeology, TAM draws thousands of Texans each year to a wide range of educational and fun-filled events.

In addition, TAM helps promote the historical significance of the state's archeological sites, increasing the public's appreciation of proper archeological practices and highlighting the importance of the contributions made by professional and avocational archeologists.

A subscription makes the perfect gift.

Tips For Dressing For Success

Regardless if you are going on a job interview or you already have the job, make sure you dress the part.

Neatness and dressing appropriately are the two golden rules for both white and blue collar workers. It's all about looking professional -- even on casual Fridays!

Here are some important dressing tips for the workplace:

 Dress Right For Job Interviews. Dress conservatively for an interview for an office job. Men should wear a solid color, conservative suit with a long-sleeve dress shirt, staid tie, dark socks and professional shoes. Women should wear a conservative suit, coordinated blouse, light hosiery and go easy on both jewelry and make-up.

 Never Be Rumpled! Nobody wants to hire, promote or have customers meet a messy employee. Crisply pressed clothes project a professional image and show you pay attention to detail.

 Grooming Matters. Especially when you wear casual clothes, grooming has an impact. Your hair should be tidy, you shouldn't skip that shower and men should be cleanly shaved or have a well-trimmed beard. Business casual isn't grooming casual!

 Fix It Fast. Late for a job interview and rumpled? Clothing get wrinkled in your luggage? If you're in a hurry, use the steam setting on an iron and gently hover over wrinkles, smoothing out the warm fabric with your hand.

 Save on Dry Cleaning and Still Look Great. Dry cleaning is costly and adds another errand to your list. Some items labeled dry clean only, like sweaters, can be washed at home in a garment bag on the gentle cycle using gentle detergent. If shirts and slacks aren't dirty, just wrinkled, return them to perfect condition with a precision iron.

Other ways to avoid dry cleaning include using various settings on your iron, such as for silk, or smoothing out the front crease of your pants with your iron after working all day.

You'll extend the life of these items by dry cleaning them less frequently. Pay attention when you're complimented.

If a co-worker says you're looking good or asks if you lost weight, take note of your outfit and repeat that look again.
