

Raider of the Week

Junior Adrian Shimek was named Raider of the Week. He is the son of Vic and Debra Shimek of Nada.

History is Adrian's favorite class.

He spends his time in the fall semester playing football.

Away from school, he enjoys spending time with his family. He works with his dad in his construction business.

After high school, Adrian wants to attend college. Although is not certain at this time, he thinks he will begin at Wharton County Junior College and then transfer to Texas A&M. He is undecided on a major.

Debt Management Tools

and keep track of your checking, saving, credit card, investment, loan, property and auto accounts in one place.

Use it to get breakdowns of your spending and free email or phone alerts letting you know when bills are due, if you've gone over budget or if the bank or card changes your interest rate.

It may seem counterintuitive, but tracking all your account activity in one place is actually safer because you can see any fraud or theft.

Get Disciplined

Just like losing weight, eliminating debt requires drastic lifestyle changes.

Many who fall into serious debt simply don't track their spending. Closely eyeing every transaction can help you win the fight against debt. With a sharp eye and tighter belt, you can quickly become debt-free.
